PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

We’ve now had two lunch meetings, 3rd Wednesday each month, and they were great. Five people attended the May meeting, and nine came to the June meeting. Both times we all learned a lot, especially about one another. It says a lot when people don’t really want to leave!

We started a discussion during the June meeting that needs to be continued throughout the general membership. Our membership is quite diverse, so our reasons for joining NCPA and our expectations for the group are diverse as well.

However, the only way the group can do a great job of meeting member’s expectations is by developing a better understanding of exactly what those needs and desires are.

I’m planning on sending out a detailed email to all members within the next couple of days, but would love everyone to start thinking about the following:

1. Why did you join NCPA?
2. Do you feel NCPA is providing value to you?
3. Do you attend the meetings?
   a. If so, what do you enjoy the most?
4. Do you spend time on the website?
   a. Are you comfortable using it?
   b. Would you like to have an opportunity for hands-on practice with the website during meetings?
5. We’ve talked about either hosting an all-day conference again or shorter workshops on publishing and/or marketing.
   a. Are you interested in those, or do you think there are enough conferences and workshops already available in the area?
   b. If you’re interested in conferences and/or workshops, any ideas on speakers and / or subjects?
6. Would you be interested in NCPA becoming more active in events and activities that provide publicity and/or exposure for our members, such as book-signings, tables at trade-shows or expos, etc.

Of course, we also have to ask what you might be willing to do to help.

   a. Do you have a skill that would be helpful?
   b. Do you have contacts that might be useful?
   c. Do you know of an event that we might contact as a group?

The email will be more specific, with room for your comments and suggestions, but this can get you started. Your thoughts are greatly appreciated!

Sharon Darrow, NCPA President

2 Big Trade Publishers Entered 2016 NCPA Book Awards (for *First Time?)

This year, for the first time, NCPA opened our Book Awards to the public (for an additional fee.) Also for the first time (to my knowledge), NCPA had trade-pub entries (Random House, and Simon & Schuster.)

Our Thursday 8 Sep 2016 Guest Speaker will be Jan Ellison, the USA Today Bestselling author of the debut novel, A Small Indiscretion, which was a San Francisco Chronicle Best Book of the Year. Jan also won an O. Henry Prize for her first short story, plus her essays about writing and parenting have appeared in The New York Times and elsewhere.

NCPA had the honor of awarding Jan’s A Small Indiscretion both 1st Place, in our 2016 Awards Banquet in the new Trade Publications category, & the Judges’ Choice Special Award. A Small Indiscretion is published by Random House, New York.

(Simon & Schuster’s entry was John Lescroart’s, The Fall)

(* If anyone knows of other Big Trade Publisher entries in prior years, please correct me!)

Registration Open for IBPA’s Publishers Weekly Cooperative Ad

The time is here for IBPA members to display their books on the cover of Publishers Weekly’s Indie Publishing Feature IBPA's Fall 2016 Publishers Weekly Cover Package provides the opportunity for members to prominently feature their book(s) on the cover, and inside pages directly behind the cover of the August 29, 2016 issue of this respected national trade magazine.

If you like music, you’ll love the following concerts by the Placer Pops Chorale; The FREE 4th of July Celebration (see flyer below) and the upcoming December Concert. The Placer Pops Chorale, led by Artistic/Musical Director Lorin Miller, showcases professional-quality, highly entertaining choral music.

This auditioned group, with its own orchestra, puts on two major concert series each year, in May & December, along with special appearances and benefit performances including the annual free, A Gift of the Heart “Homeland” concert celebrating the 4th of July … this year, held on July 2nd & 3rd in Auburn.

Fay Bolton was the lucky winning bidder for the May Mother’s Day performance, and had nothing by high praise for it. Another of our generous donors to the Scholarship Silent Auction,

Auburn Library Garden Theater - 350 Nevada Street, Auburn, CA

Two weeks ago the Placer Pops Chorale was honored to work with Grammy award-winning recording engineer Leslie Jones, daughter of bandleader Spike Jones, in the sound studio at George Lucas' Skywalker Ranch, to make professional recordings of some of the Chorale’s spring concert numbers. (The concert for the tickets Placer Pops donated to NCPA.)

They worked for nearly four hours to perfect musical phrases, and report that the sound studio is enormous, the control booth is fascinating to see in action, and the property itself is stunning (many were fortunate to be able to spend the night at the Ranch.) Rumor has it the Chorale was told they were better than some of the professionals Ms. Jones had worked with.

Member Danna Wilberg reports:

My short French film script was chosen for "A Place Called Sacramento" and will premiere at the Crest Theater on October 8, 2016.
The story is about a French family who immigrates to Sacramento to fill the position of the Honorary French Consul. The official French Consul, Monsieur Guy Michelier was kind enough to appear in one of our scenes.

We began pre-production in May, began filming June 11, and plan to finish by the middle of July. So far, we have worked feverishly for 60 hours in two downtown locations, Cathedral Square, and Harmony House. Over the next few weeks we will be filming on the light-rail, and in a bakery.

What makes "A Place Called Sacramento" so unique is that local talent, film crews, and businesses collaborate to bring these scripts to screen. People donate locations, food, vehicles, products, equipment, talent and expertise to these projects. Each one is a labor of love!

For the writer, this event can be a stepping stone to other projects or can enhance a writer’s perspective on story telling. We invite everyone to join us in October for 10 wonderful films

Camel Press released “The Trade List,” written by Rae Franklin James.  “The Trade List,” the fourth book in the Mystery/ Suspense Series, was inspired by the 2008 financial in print or digital at Barnes & Noble, Amazon, and independent Features Hollis Morgan, a young attorney whose past as a collar ex-con makes her a magnet for trouble. A woman dies list of money launderers to Hollis. Now Hollis is the target http://camelpress.com/2016/06/01/the-trade-list-by-r-franklin-james-a-frantic-search-for-a-dangerous-list/

NCPA is proud to report the July 1st release of member F. X. Biasi Jr’s newest novel, Slaughter House Chronicles, the third in his ”LaRocca-Tanner” series of suspense-filled thrillers.

Slaughter House Chronicles is a story of illegal drugs and murder wrapped inside a bitter 150 year-old rivalry between two of Humboldt County's most affluent family dynasties.

The first novel in this series, The Brother-in-Law, was awarded 3rd place in NCPA's 2013 Book Awards for General Fiction. Biasi's second novel, The Tanner Extraction, was a quarterfinalist in Amazon's 2015 Breakthrough Novel Awards.
